CITY WATER FACILITIES RAISED BY ENGINEER

Mayor O. A. Fly has received a letter from Henry L. Dabney, chief of water supply section, division of sanitary engineering, state department of health, recommending the city of Hondo to install a new water system.

The letter reads in part: "We are pleased to note from our representative's report that since previous survey a new well has been constructed and placed in operation and also that a mechanical chlorinator has been provided to disinfect the water being supplied to storage tanks in the distribution system."

The city is to be complimented upon this most worthy project in order to meet the increasing water requirements of the city.

Write-In Swells Vote

A big vote turn-out at the school election came as a surprise to Hondoans Saturday, when a total of 283 ballots were cast—200 of these in the last one hour and fifteen minutes before the polls closed at 7 p.m.

Ordinarily the number of votes cast in an election which finds the same number of candidates as vacancies on the board is very light, but a heavy write-in vote last Saturday changed the usual picture.

When the final count of votes was made, the three incumbents whose names were printed on the official ballot, were re-elected. They are Dr. Walter B. Meyer, 171 votes; Henry Lindeburg, 158 votes; and Rudy Rath, 158 votes.

Three names were written in on ballots, Mrs. R. W. DePuy received 106 votes, W. S. Porter had 109 and Paul Bybee, 106 according to the official count.

Ex-Priest Here Sunday

The First Baptist Church of Hondo is going to have as guest speaker at the 11 o'clock service on April 15, the former Roman Catholic Priest, Dr. Carl Mrzena. The pastor of First Baptist Church, the Rev. Harold Cornelison, has arranged for his appearance here.

After serving the Roman Catholic Church in his native country Austria, Dr. Mrzena came to the United States in 1923. He resigned from the priesthood in October of 1929.

Parents: Watch For Cards

Cards will be taken home Thursday, April 12, by students of Hondo Elementary School indicating the child's condition of health as determined by the detection clinic held in March. The cards will be with report cards, and parents are asked to watch for them.

In summarizing the findings of the medical clinic sponsored by the Lions Club of Hondo, Elementary School Principal Robert W. Nations reports that 828 students of his school were checked.

Tooth decay was found to be the most prevalent irregularity among the school children, 316 students out of the 828 examined were listed as needing immediate dental attention—this is 38.2 percent of the children. Ranking second were eye irregularities, with 97 students needing immediate care and 72 were listed as borderline cases which need further tests to determine the child's needs, 11.7 percent of the Hondo Elementary School children examined had some eye fault according to the official tabulation.

No cases of nose irregularities were discovered, four throat disorders were found and 12 ear or hearing deficiencies were noted. The most serious findings were three heart irregularities.

The Hondo Lions Club urges all parents to study the medical cards brought home by the students and to fulfill the medical or dental needs of the child. In cases where parents are not financially able to pay for needed treatment, the Lions Club plans to go to the rescue and foot the bill.

School Board Seeking Bids On New Building Construction

Hondo is one step nearer to beginning construction of the new elementary school building. A Notice To Bidders appears elsewhere in this issue of the Anvil Herald stating that sealed proposals from contractors are being received by the school.

The bids will be received in the office of J. G. Barry, superintendent of schools, at 2 p.m. Tuesday, May 1, 1956 and then publicly opened and read.

Contractors are to state their monetary charges as well as give an estimate of time which they think will be required to construct the new structure, $25 per day will be charged the contractor for time following his estimated deadline.

After bids are opened on this proposal, Barry says the school board will consider improvement plans for the present elementary school building. Principal changes will be made in the heating and lighting system at the school although floor replacements, repairs and painting will also be included.

Barry says he expects actual ground-breaking and construction of the new building to begin in May, but holds it very unlikely that the school will be ready for use by next September.

Pastor of St. Patrick's Parish of San Antonio since 1937, the priest has had three heart attacks during the current year.

During his 12 years in Hondo, Monsignor Flynn, a school was erected in 1927, a building was acquired for use by the Latin American congregation in 1928, and part of an old school was purchased for the Latin Americans.

Dr. John H. Jennings, president; Dr. E. B. Vincent, vice-president; and E. L. Pope, secretary-treasurer, were the officers named.

The six board members drew straws to determine how long each term of office would be, since two new governors are to be elected every year. Mrs. Juanita Hackbeil and Bill Kelly will serve one year, Dr. Vincent and Jack Hartung will serve a two-year term and Dr. Jennings and Mr. Pope, three years.

The board decided to set the deadline for director applicants at May 1. Applications are now being accepted for the job of salaried director. The board will meet May 3rd to select one from the candidates.

4th Army, Hondo Bands To Perform

The dedication of one of the county's largest buildings will be held Saturday in Hondo. It is the new armory building located on west 18th Street, which houses the Heavy Mortar Company, 141st Infantry Regiment, Texas National Guard.

Maj. Gen. K. L. Berry, Adjutant General of the Texas National Guard, will be the principal speaker at the formal opening.

First event of the day will be the arrival of the Fourth Army Band of Fort Sam Houston at approximately 9:30 a.m. The band, which includes a band director and 54 members, will present a brief concert in downtown Hondo, probably around the area in front of the bank, immediately upon arrival in town.

They will also play selections later at the site of the armory as will the Hondo High Owl Band, under the direction of Bob Lewis.

Official ceremonies, all of which are open to the public, will be held between 10 and 12 noon including presentation of the flag and dedication of the building. As soon as official ceremonies are complete, open house will be held until 6 p.m. Anyone desiring a tour of the building will be conducted through by a member of the local guard unit.

At the conclusion of the day, a dance will be held in the armory. The dance Saturday night is open to the public and $1 per person will be charged to help defray expenses. Bob Lewis and a dance band will play.

Guard History

A National Guard unit was organized in Hondo on Feb. 13, 1948 as an anti-tank company of the 141st Infantry Regiment, but it was short-lived as the same year the organization was changed to a heavy mortar company. The tanks had arrived, but were never unloaded off freight cars. Instead, they were moved on to Laredo where an anti-tank unit was formed.

First commanding officer of the unit was Osmer Moss. He was followed by Capt. Richard Schneider, now a major on active duty, and Capt. Merrit W. Keel, who is now the assistant S-3 of the 141st Infantry Regiment in charge of plans and training. First Lt. E. J. Williams has served as CO a couple of times over the eight year period. Currently, Capt. Roland Weber is in charge.

The unit has an administrator, Warrant Officer Leo Heirman who is on duty eight hours a day.

Have Openings

Authorized strength of the group is 6 officers and 137 enlisted men. Presently they have 5 officers, 1 warrant officer and 80 enlisted men. The unit has openings for radio operators, switch board operators, gunners and assistant gunners, wiremen, truck drivers and fire direction computers.

The guard meets each Tuesday night from 8 til 10 and usually has four to six weekend drills in the spring. In addition, they attend summer camp for two weeks each year. This year they will be going to North Fort Hood on June 17 and stay there until July 1. During their "tour" of camp, they fire the 4.2 mortar, principal weapon of the unit. They have four mortars and 11 vehicles at the present time.

In July, 1955 a building was authorized for the unit and construction on the armory building began in November of that year. They moved in on Jan. 8, 1956.

The big, new building cost about $85,000 and is 109x114 feet in size. The drill hall is 90 x 61 feet and the structure also includes three offices, one large classroom which may be converted into two by the use of an accordion type door, a locker room, kitchen, large supply room, vault and two rest rooms.

SECO PHILOSOPHER ADVISES

Congress Not To Worry Because Farm Bill Might Be Unworkable

Editor's note: The Seco Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is still concerned with the farm problem, his letter this week reveals.

I was sitting around our here on my farm the other day still waiting for Congress to solve the farm problem and getting a little mad because some expert said on the radio that nothing much in the way of a good farm bill can be expected because the farm problem is now involved in politics, which is ridiculous. The only reason any problem ever gets involved in politics is because it's a problem. When something is going smoothly, to suit everybody, naturally you don't call in Washington, but when a kink develops, whether it's in the farming business or the oil business or the flood control business, then when a cry goes up for help, and anybody who thinks he can take a problem to Washington without getting it involved in politics comes pretty close to being born yesterday.

But what I started out to say was some expert in Washington has been lambasting the proposed farm bill on the grounds it's unworkable.

This is the flimsiest excuse for attacking a farm bill I ever heard of. Of course it's not workable, from a theoretical standpoint, and never will be. But that doesn't have any bearing on it. When you analyze it closely and long enough, you'll find the monetary system isn't workable; at the start of any given marriage, you can find plenty of people who'll say it won't work; traffic plans aren't workable, etc., but people still like to handle money, keep on getting married and even staying married, and the worst traffic snarl finally works itself out.

You take the average farmer. Any thinking man would know that anybody who sat down at the first of the year and took into consideration all the hazards ahead in making a single crop, from insects to weather to busted machinery to uncertain prices, would see immediately any plan to make a crop is unworkable.

Or look in on Congress itself. Anybody watching law-makers in session will come away convinced the whole thing is unworkable, but Congress keeps on meeting and the government keeps on functioning and I for one wouldn't be interested in swapping it for any other kind.

If Washington is holding up passing a farm bill just because it's unworkable, I say go ahead and pass it and stop straining at a gnat.

Jours faithfully,

J. A.

"Emergencies" Never End For Nation's Taxpayers

Each spring booklets explaining how to compute your income tax to your best advantage appear and are sold in great numbers. This year a publisher has brought out one which contains a novel and striking feature.

The bulk of the booklet consists of valuable factual information as to deductions, exemptions, special credits, sample filled-in forms, and other such matters. The special feature pages, on the other hand, are based on the Hoover Commission reports — and show the vast sums that we, the taxpayers, would be saved if government would get out of commercial business and rid itself of needless spending in general.

This publisher of a how-to-do-it tax book really has a fine idea. It is important that we understand the tax laws and pay as little as is legally required. It is far more important, in the long run, that we cut the over-all cost of government — and so make those requirements less.

Moreover, this goes beyond the pure dollars-and-cents factor. Henry Hazlitt recently wrote in Newsweek: "For every additional dollar that the Government spends, the taxpayers have one dollar less to spend. The situation is worse than this. Taxation erodes the incentives to produce and earn. It penalizes success. In the end it meets fewer real needs than before. People spend the money they themselves earn on what they themselves really want. The Government spends money not on what the rest of us want but on what our paternalistic bureaucrats think is good for us."

During the Korean war, certain taxes were increased in order to help pay the bill. It was generally said and believed that these increases would be repealed once the emergency was over and Korean war spending could stop.

The corporate income tax and some excise taxes were among those increased because of Korea. That war ended long ago — but just the other day Congress decided to continue the increases for another year.

Which indicates that "emergencies" never end — so far as the taxpayer is concerned.

TELLS ABOUT LORENZO CASTRO'S BOOK
"THE REPUBLIC OF MEXICO"

SOME MORE FACTS FROM CASTRO'S BOOK

Mexico has long been recognized as one among the richest, if not the richest, in mineral wealth of all the countries of the world.

It is small wonder then that 59 pages of the book are devoted to "History of Mining in Mexico Under Mexico and Spanish Rule;" and the facts, both of history and of production of minerals are presented in great detail and by states. Gold and silver predominate but lead, copper, iron, salt and saltpetre are also found in paying quantities.

As examples of strange facts we quote: "The gold placers—of State of Sonora—produced from January, 1773, to November 17 of the following year 4,832 marcos of gold, which paid into the royal treasury of the town of Alamos as duties to the king the sum of $72,000, and it is estimated that at least one-third of the yield of these placers was smuggled out. The immense richness of these placers greatly contrasted with the scarcity of provisions and water; as much as $6.00 was often paid for a barrel of water."

"From 1814 to January 1873, the mint of the City of Mexico coined $5,060,178.38 copper money". Some pennies!

—FD—
Since means of access are one of the first concerns of potential prospectors of any area, very naturally our author gave a very extensive report of Mexico's railroad facilities, and when we remember that the book was published in 1882, just one year after the Southern Pacific was built through Hondo, one can but be surprised at the extent of railroad construction that had already been made.

But nothing attracts wealth so much as potential wealth that is to be had for the going after. And in addition to these inducements, both the National and various State Governments were making generous concessions and subsidies for their construction. In this way, capital, such as that represented by shareholders in London, England and Jay Gould and associates in the United States were actively engaged in the building of the roads.

The construction of telegraph lines—an absolute essential to the successful operation of railroad traffic—was keeping pace with the building of the railroads.

—FD—
The systems of weights and measures, both of commodities and lands, in use in that Republic are covered in lucid detail in seven pages.

In a similar manner, her tariff laws are covered in some ten pages that follow. A noteworthy fact is that in the matter of intoxicating liquors, it paid three excise taxes—the regular import duty, a package duty and "an additional duty per net kilogram". Whether this multiplicity of duties was levied to "protect home industry" or to raise additional revenue does not appear.

—FD—
Our author found that it was easy for foreigners to become naturalized and/or acquire property under the laws and customs in vogue at that time, and we quote:

"Any foreigner who shall manifest the desire of becoming a citizen of the Republic, and who will produce proof that he has a profession or carries on an industry that permits him to make an honest living, can obtain his letter of citizenship."

—FD—
There is a vast array of statistics, dealing with subjects from the Federal Revenues, the value of Real Estate, etc., to "the cost of raising and gathering one 'arroba' of cotton".

—FD—
And finally, what was intended possibly to be most useful to his readers is a series of itineraries, beginning on page 210, and followed with a table of Distances between given points and the City of Mexico, as well as between some other points, together with others showing the stage line fares; the section occupying 44 pages and closing the book on page 254.

These itineraries, together with the information about distance and costs of travel, while of no interest to others, to the prospector of the time must have been of incalculable value.

—FD—
Whatever Lorenzo Castro's success or failure as an author or a real-estate promoter, he certainly had the qualifications for being both.

Read the two closing paragraphs of his book and you will say it was so!

"There are many small estates that are worth millions of dollars, situated between Queretaro and Mexico, not mentioned in this statement because their extension is insignificant when compared to their great value."

"In the estate of San Rafael del Salado and Aguadulce, parties who desire to enter largely upon stock-raising, agriculture and the development of mines, will find a vast and productive field beside the exploitation of the natural products, like the Lechuguilla Maguey, Zolmandoque, Palmetto, Cactus and Zotol, that will, if properly worked, alone pay for the hacienda in less than ten years."

Verily Nature was generous in her gifts of wealth to the land of the Aztecs!

A PERSONAL NOTE

The accompanying column, as well as the one to follow next week, were prepared before our recent bereavement as announced on the front page of last week's issue of this paper. The passing of the sweetheart of my young manhood, the wife, companion and helpmate of nearly fifty-six years, the mother of my four children, the one to whom I owe the sweetest compensations of a long life, leaves me with a sense of loss and grief that naught can ever assuage.

But we want everyone who showed their sympathy by deed or word, however expressed, to know that their every kindness has been a sadly sweet consolation that mere words are powerless to convey our appreciation. On the 20th of this month I will have completed 56 years connection with this paper, either as owner or columnist. With the permission of the Publisher I shall still "carry on".

Sadly but gratefully yours,

High School Homemakers Look To Mrs. Dora Faseler

A Feature Story By Texas A&M Students

Hondo High School has had a homemaking department since 1935 and a Future Homemakers of America chapter since 1945, when FHA was organized.

"It is one of the most worthwhile organizations for girls," said Mrs. Robert F. Faseler, sponsor of the group. "Part of our purpose is to develop more responsibility in the girls."

Mrs. Faseler, who answers to the name Dora, took time out from her long teaching day to explain the purpose and projects of the local chapter. She has been teaching in the Hondo school for the last six years. Before coming to Hondo she had taught in Yancy and Devine. She is currently working on her Masters Degree in Home Economics Education from Texas State College for Women. Her Bachelor of Arts Degree was received at TSCW.

Besides being a teacher, she is a housewife and the mother of five children who range in age from 7 to 16. Her husband is a farmer and rancher, his specialty being broom corn "when it rains", she said. The Faselers have been married for 17 years.

Homemaking courses in Hondo are offered on an elective basis. Girls may take three full years of the program. During each semester that a girl is taking FHA she is required to undertake a six-week project. This project is selected jointly by teacher, parents and pupil. These projects are designed to teach the girls more about duties and responsibilities that go into making a home. At the end of the six-week period, a written report is until the report is written that the girls realize just how much they have learned.

The girls can also work on two longer and more detailed projects during the summer months. Monthly meetings, though not required, are held by the girls during their summer vacations. At these meetings some sort of group activity is usually carried out. During the school year several dances and hayrides are held jointly with the Future Farmers of America chapter.

New officers are installed each May for one-year terms. To be installed next month are: Virginia Clements, president; Barbara Brucks, first vice-president; Susie Modest, second vice-president; Sara Moore, third vice-president; Hasey Eckhart, secretary; Diane Pope, treasurer; and Roxene Schweers, reporter. Song Leader, Joylene Tomerlin; Pianist, Judy Nester; Civil Defense, Dolores Shelton, Historian, Sharan Weimers, Parliamentarian, Connie Schweers; and Photographer, Mary Francis.

The interdenominational group performs many worthwhile projects, both local and state wide. When the girls go to their Area meeting they take stamped Christmas cards with them. They are collected and sent to state mental hospitals, where patients send the cards to their friends and relatives.

Locally, FHA members leased a section of land between Highway 90 and the railroad which they have beautified. This project was begun by the local Garden Club. The FHA girls bake cakes and sell them to the public to cover the cost of a caretaker for the plot.

Mrs. Faseler says courses are designed for future wives and homemakers—not for girls who plan on entering business after graduation. Her own life is an example that the two can be combined to a very successful degree. The courses are not offered to boys, primarily because of the schedule difficulties that would arise.

She is certainly justified when she says, "We are awfully proud of our girls."

WHAT DO YOU MEAN, "JUST FACE LIFTING"?

EVERY NOW AND THEN, we run across someone who seems to think that 1956 cars do not offer anything really new—just a little face lifting from the year before.

We won't try to speak for the automobile industry. But we certainly can speak for Buick.

And let us announce in no uncertain terms—the newest thing on wheels.

The Styling is New

Sure, it looks like a Buick. But it has a new V-prowed grille that says 1956 and no mistake. The hood's new—the fender ports are new—the sweepspear is new—and it all adds up to a new sweep-ahead look that ends in a sassy new slant to the rear contours. But that, friends, is only the beginning.

The 1956 Dynaflow* is New

It introduces what the engineers call "double regeneration"—which means a double-action take-off. It gives you new, split-second response in the first inch of pedal travel—plus the "switch the pitch" at full acceleration, which no one else has yet approached.

The Ride is New

To coil springs on all four wheels, a brawny X-braced frame, and torque-tube drive, the engineers have added deep-oil shock absorbers to give new softness, new buoyancy, new comfort, and a brand-new "sense of direction" handling response.

The Power is New

All 1956 Buicks have new and mighty 322-cubic-inch V8's—with record highs in power and compression—with unique new double "Y" manifolding to step up efficiency —with new carburetor "deicing"—and a host of other new features to make owning a Buick pure pleasure.

The Thrill is New

And the surest way for you to find out how right we are, is to sample a 1956 Buick yourself.

As we said before, this is the best Buick yet—by a wide measure—and when you learn the prices we're quoting, you'll know why this Buick is one of the three best sellers in today's market.

It takes a lot more than face lifting to produce such a winner as this.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Draft Board
Calls More
During May

The May draft call for Texas asks for 593 men, compared to 301 for April. Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service director, announced Wednesday.

This is the state's share of a national call for 12,000 men—all for the Army.

At the same time, the state Selective Service director announced a call on half the state's draft boards for 1,152 men to take pre-induction physical and mental examinations for future calls.

He said boards not receiving a quota for these examinations in May would be called upon to furnish men for examination in June.

The May quota will be filled with men who are 21 years of age, or older, on May 1, with the exception of delinquents, or volunteers, who may be older.

Another Great Name In Office Equipment

SHAW-WALKER

Joins The Anvil-Herald Parade

This Parade Is For You

Yes, for you our customers, we started this parade of office equipment last October in order to serve you better and save you time and money. We are gradually adding more names to our parade of office equipment and we are trying to obtain the very best in every line. We sincerely believe it is more economical to invest in the best possible equipment to operate a business. Your office equipment is an investment in years of efficient use and operation. Figured on the basis of the number of years it will serve you — the price then becomes insignificant and efficiency of operation becomes one of the main items. Won't you drop in and let us demonstrate the office efficiency of Shaw-Walker equipment?

A High Stepper!

This one is a real "high stepper." Shaw-Walker has been a high-stepping leader in the office equipment industry for more years than most of us can remember — or like to remember.

"Built like a skyscraper" has been the motto for all Shaw-Walker products. And believe us when we say that is true. Shaw-Walker has always signified the very best in desks, files, tables, fire files and safes.

We Are Pleased . . .

Naturally, we are very pleased (and just a little bit proud of the fact, too) that Shaw-Walker has chosen us as its exclusive distributor in this territory. We will be offering you the complete line of equipment manufactured by Shaw-Walker. And believe us it covers the field — from Blank Books to Storage Units. Come in any time and see the Shaw-Walker equipment now in use and on display in our own office.

Ask for a demonstration of the Organized Desk. The saving in your time alone will easily pay for the investment in an Organized Desk. Come in today!

'Weaker Sex' To Be Admitted To University Of Texas Band

The weaker sex at the University of Texas will be tooting their own horns next fall for the first time in history.

Vincent R. Di Nino, Longhorn Band director, has announced that women will be admitted to the all-male ranks of the Longhorn Band.

Only two restrictions will be placed on the lady musicians:

- 1) they will not be allowed to march with the band at football games; and
- 2) they will be limited to playing the clarinet, French horn, flute, piccolo, bassoon and oboe.

Coupled with the news about women was the announcement that the Longhorn Band will hold three campus auditions for University bound high school bandmen.

Director Di Nino has scheduled auditions in the Longhorn Band Hall for May 5, June 23, and September 18. The May 5 date coincides with the annual Interscholastic League state meet in Austin.

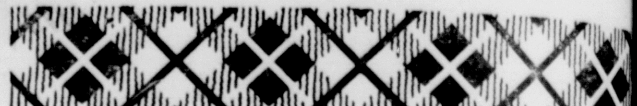

Musicians must bring their own instruments and one musical selection to the auditions, Di Nino said. Tuition scholarships will be awarded on the basis of the auditions. Di Nino emphasized the auditions were not designed to keep students out of the band but to aid him in his knowledge of available personnel.

Di Nino proposes to increase Longhorn Band membership to 120 and expand the current program of Student Union concerts, radio broadcasts, and television appearances.

First Baptist's Preacher Came Here During 1951

A Feature Story
By Texas A&M Students

Rev. Harold Cornelison, Pastor of the First Baptist Church of Hondo, is a native Texan and has lived in the Lone Star State all his life.

"I love Texas," said Rev. Cornelison, "and wouldn't want to live anywhere else. I especially like it here in Hondo. My family and I really appreciate the friendliness of the people here. They've been grand to us."

The Cornelisons, the Reverend, his wife, Pauline, and their children, Harold, Jr., 14, and Jane Carol, 12, have lived in Hondo since October 1951, when he came here to be pastor of the Baptist Church.

Brother Cornelison attended Texas A&M, majoring in agriculture, in 1928-29, but decided to study for the ministry and changed to Hardin Simmons University where he graduated in 1933.

He attended Southwestern Seminary in Fort Worth for his theological work, and was graduated in 1938.

His first church was the Miami, Texas, First Baptist Church, where he stayed for three years. He then moved to Mason, Texas, and was pastor of the first church there until 1942, when he was called in the Armed Services as a chaplain.

Brother Cornelison saw action in the European Theater of Operations, including the "D" Day landing at Normandy beach in France where he was assigned to supervise chaplains of the Sixth Engineers Special Brigade, whose specialty was landing troops and clearing obstacles.

After four years serving for his country, Rev. Cornelison returned to the United States, but was treated for injuries over a year and a half in San Angelo, his hometown.

When he became able to begin his ministerial work again, he took over as pastor of the Arcadia Park Baptist Church in Dallas for a year then moved back to San Angelo for more treatment.

At present the Hondo First Baptist Church has 465 members on its rolls, 73 of them in their Mexican Baptist Mission on 14th Street.

DILLEY PASTOR LAUDS HONDO CAMP FIRE WORK

The Anvil Herald has received a letter from the Rev. Claus H. Rohlf, pastor of First Methodist Church at Dilley, praising the Hondo Camp Fire program which sent leaders to their community to assist in the organization of a similar program.

His letter follows:

"I wish to address these words to you relative to the program of Camp Fire Girls in Dilley, which as you know was organized with assistance of some of your own splendid Camp Fire Leaders, among them Mrs. R. R. Corder, and Miss Mary Ruth Cameron.

"We organized Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls. The Methodist Church sponsors the program on a community wide basis. The leadership represents the Church of Christ, the Baptist Church, the Assembly of God Church, the Roman Church and the Methodist Church. The girls, 72 of them, also represent the Churches of our community as well as both major cultural groups. Camp Fire in Dilley is truly an integrated program of the girls in our community, Anglo and Latin, building bridges of understanding.

"But this Camp Fire program would not have become a reality in Dilley, had it not been for the guidance, instruction and inspiration of your leaders. The spirit of Camp Fire in Hondo spread over to us in Dilley.

"We wish to express our gratitude through you to all the friends of Camp Fire Girls in Hondo. We believe that the best way to say thank you was to give you this brief report on our progress."

CANCER IS A LEADING CAUSE OF TEXAN DEATHS

AUSTIN — Cancer, the second leading cause of death, took the lives of 9,379 Texans last year. This means that a little over one person out of every 1,000 of our population died from this disease during that period.

According to Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health, one-third of these deaths could have been prevented by earlier detection and prompt treatment. On this basis 3,126 Texans needlessly died of cancer in 1955, because proper treatment was begun too late.

There are some encouraging aspects in the fight against cancer. Deaths from that disease among women in the United States have declined more than ten per cent in the past ten years.

Many thousands could be saved if men and women would have a complete physical examination once a year. Women over 35 should have a mid-year check-up for signs of uterine and breast cancer and men should secure an X-ray for signs of lung cancer.

Dr. Holle says that at least 50 per cent of all cancers are accessible to examination by a physician through sight or touch.

Of all Americans who die of cancer today the deaths of one-third could be avoided if proper treatment were begun before the cancers spread. The profession of surgery is proof of this, as the latest figures show that cancer deaths among surgeons is only 66 per cent of the general rate. Evidently surgeons not only have the proper knowledge of the facts about cancer, but act promptly on the basis of that knowledge.

Today cancer is being attacked by research within nearly every branch of science. Also, studies are being made of large numbers of people to discover if living conditions are in any way responsible for cancer.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

By Dr. John H. Jennings

Win District Opener

The Hondo Owls won their district opener last Tuesday afternoon in the home park as they took Devine 8 to 1. The Owls will play South San here Friday at 4 p.m. in their 2nd district game. District games will be played on Tuesdays and Fridays.

Devine jumped off to a 1 run lead in the first inning as they got 2 of their 3 hits but that was all for the Warhorses' attack. However, Devine chipped in with lots of defense and fortunately for the Owls most of it was bad. For instance, in the third inning Hondo got their only 2 hits of the contest, while Devine gave out 3 walks, then came thru with 4 errors and the Owls wound up with 8 runs which was enough for the win.

Big Alvin Hartman worked the entire game on the mound for the Owls and he was very effective as he gave up only 1 run on 3 hits, walked 3 and struck out 4. The Owls managed 8 runs on 2 hits, 4 walks, and a number of Devine errors. Only one Owl went out by the strike out route.

Braves Officers

This game of baseball is a lot more than grabbing a ball and bat and going to it. A manager has the big job, but to make his task a bit easier the Braves, as do most all Hwy. 90 clubs, have what is termed an "administrative team". The Hondo Braves officers are as follows: President, Harry Fillemen; Playing Mgr., Harris Parson; Business Mgr., John H. Jennings; Sec'y, Milton Renken; Treasurer, Deen Reed; Gate Keeper, Jim Lynch; Equipment Mgr., W. J. Braden; Publicity, Harry Hartman; Scorekeeper, Ernest Schneider; Drink Stand, Senior Class.

Hondo Golfing News

The Hondo Air Base golf course is still reaching for a higher plateau, it's membership growth since golf Pro Joe Mitchell took over March 1st has been phenomenal. A few days ago the regular paying members totaled 117, and there have been scores and scores of others playing by paying a 50 cent ($1.00 on weekends) green fee. It is already pretty good business and it's growing! Mitchell says the golf interest is here, that the course has the makings of a real good one, and that he wouldn't be surprised if it didn't turn out to be one of the best and busiest nine holes around.

The big project at the moment are the fairway weeds, they have been allowed to grow the past weeks so they would be in the best condition for a good weed-killing spraying. Everything was all set last Monday for the spraying to begin, but up came the strong wind and foiled the attempt, as it has done before. Soooo, the first time the wind lays, the spraying will begin and the weeds will go.

More Golf Chatter

A sweepstake was held last Saturday at the Base Course, 14 men participated for $24.00 merchandise prize money. The entry fee was $1 per man and the Club put up $10.00. The results were as follows:

First place, Jack Braniff, Gross 91, Handicap 26, Net 65.
Second place, Jim Harrison, Gross 81, Handicap 15, Net 66.
Third place, Capt. Robt. Sizemore, Gross 76, Handicap 8, Net 68.

First place was good for $12 in club house merchandise, $7.20 for second and third gave $4.80.

A similar sweepstake will be held this Sunday (not Saturday) for all persons (who put up a $1 entry fee) with a qualified handicap. To establish a handicap a person must turn in 10 scorecards of rounds he had played. A average is then figured so that all players, whether good, fair or or bad golfers, may have a chance to win and play in the sweepstake on the same footing. All members are urged to turn in their scorecards so their handicap may be established, for in the very near future the First Annual will be held and to enter one must have a qualified handicap.

Course Due Changes

Within the next 3 to 5 weeks it is possible that the Club House will be moved to the old National Guard Buildings, just off fairway No. 4. This relocation will be a lot more convenient, and will make it possible to do some expanding on other fairways. It is planned to put in a very large practice putting green, .18 holes on the green that enable a large number to improve their putting skill at one time.

In the best interests of golf, there are rules and etiquette that should be followed. Joe Mitchell would like for all golfers to take a few minutes and read the golfing etiquette notices posted in the Club House, and to look at the 10 most violated rules of golf as illustrated by pictures tacked on the wall.

Mitchell also says the Second Winter Garden Golf Sweepstakes Tournament is to be played at Rosita, Mexico, April 29th. Anyone interested in going there, either as a single or couple, should contact Mitchell for all necessary information.

And to close on a sour note "real sandtrap sand" has been put in the sand traps and now golfers will have to shoot out of the traps . . . Look out 50's here I come again!
